

-
-

Trump Assassination Foiled, Deep State in Panic Mode!

By

-

January 30, 2021

42202

UPDATE: WE HAVE JUST PUBLISHED A FOLLOW-UP TO THIS STORY:

On Tuesday morning, January 26, at approximately 3:00 am, a sniper's bullet struck a panoramic casement window on the east wall of Trump's bedroom at his Mar-a-Lago estate. The round might have slain Trump had he not recently replaced tempered glass with Blast Structures International's bullet resistant glass, which, according to the company's website, can stop anything less powerful than a .50 round.

A confidential source within Trump's inner circle told Real Raw News that Trump was asleep in bed, and, a light sleeper, was awakened by the "sharp crack" of the bullet striking glass. The round did not penetrate the glass, but caused a material-science dissipation fracture, or spiderweb pattern.

The strike, our source said, triggered a silent alarm that instantly notified the Palm Beach Police Dept. and Trump's Secret Service Detail, which sleeps in a guest house ten yards from the main building. Agents whisked Trump to safety, escorting him to a fortified saferoom, and said they'd coordinate with local authorities.

But Trump demanded they call the Palm Beach Police Dept. and say it was a false alarm.

“Trump was adamant no police get involved,” our source said. “He told his guys he wants to keep it in the family. No law enforcement. No media. He was very stern about keeping the media blind to the event. Trump made a phone call, and inside of thirty minutes, some heavy-hitting dudes who were definitely not Secret Service arrived at the estate,” our source said.

With Trump safe, his private security fanned across the 20-acre estate searching for signs of intrusion, while the Secret Service detail began its own investigation as to how a would-be assassin got within shooting distance of one of the most secure residences in the world.

At 7:00am a forensic ballistic expert from Quantico arrived at Mar-a-Lago and determined the bullet fragments were from a 7mm Remington Magnum round. He found himself amid an intractable dilemma, our source said. The round had been fired at a downward angle and, had it pierced glass, would have sizzled through Trump’s skull, but an attack on the east window meant one of two things. The sniper had taken the shot from either estate grounds, which lacks elevated terrain, or from somewhere above the Atlantic swell, a seemingly impossible feat.

“Trump’s bedroom is 23 feet above ground level. Besides the main building, no structure on the property is higher. The ballistics guy figured the shot could only have been made by someone in a hovering helicopter two hundred yards or more off the coast. If true, that guy must have been the best marksman in the world. From a helicopter and at night. Crazy,” our source said.

The concept of sniping from a helicopter seemed so unrealistic that RRL reached out to Marine Corps Staff Sgt. Hunter Bernius, a scout-sniper and instructor at the Marine Corps. School of Infantry in Geiger, North Carolina. Without mentioning the nature of our inquiry, we asked Staff Sgt. Bernius about the odds of successfully pulling off a 200-400 yard shot from a hovering chopper with little or no natural light.

“Only with proper training specifically for that type of mission. To shoot precisely, the shooter has to account for aircraft vibration and wind speed and direction, all wind whipping up around him from blades spinning at 400rpm. Then there’s a dozen other variables. Takes months and months of training from a qualified instructor, and there’s still no guarantee. Aerial sniping is a skill all its own,” Staff Sgt. Bernius said.

By noon, the Secret Service had discretely interviewed all persons on estate property, but no one reported having seen or heard a helicopter.

According to our source, Trump’s people suspected the attack was carried out by the Deep State, to stop Trump from amassing incriminating evidence that, if released, could sink every Democrat from Joe Biden to the most junior member of the Democratic caucus.

(For those people asking What about Melania? Where was Melania? Anyone who knows anything about the Trumps, knows they sleep in separate bedrooms.)

This is a developing story.

Please help support alternative media. We follow the truth, wherever it leads. We reject absolutely big-tech and the narrow, dogmatic views of MSM. Although we are new to the arena, the MSM and its watchdogs—Snopes, Media Matters, Politifact, etc.—have waged war on us. We need your help to thrive, so that we can present important, unique news not found elsewhere.

[wpedon id="445" align="center"]

(Visited 469,194 times, 65 visits today)

Hillary Clinton Hanged at GITMO

-
-

Hillary Clinton Hanged at GITMO

By

-

April 26, 2021

Scrambled eggs with jalapeno peppers, and a strawberry milkshake. The last meal of the condemned.

Hillary Rodham Clinton was hanged at Guantanamo Bay Monday night, her death the culmination of an operation that began on March 2 when U.S. Navy SEALs on Donald J. Trump's authority arrested the disgraced politician at her Chappaqua, NY mansion. After a five-day tribunal at the world's most infamous detention center, a three-officer panel found Clinton guilty of murder, accessory to murder, treason, child trafficking, and other high crimes. Clinton, who had refused counsel, had uttered nary a word throughout the proceedings, and had taken Vice Adm. John G. Hannink's sentence of death with an unflinching gaze.

The hanging took place at 9:05 p.m., at once after Taps, which marks the start of quiet hours on U.S. military bases across the globe.

"The world is about to sleep quieter tonight," Vice Adm. John G. Hannink said to a small assembly that included 3 Joint Chiefs of Staff and, notably, Donald J. Trump, who, garbed in his typical dark suit and crimson tie, had arrived at GITMO earlier in the day. Michael Pompeo and former NYC Mayor Rudy Giuliani flanked him, both men having played an integral role in amassing evidence against Clinton.

Under military guard, a shackled Hillary Clinton was escorted from Camp Delta detention block to gallows made of steel latticework, with a downward swinging door beneath her feet, that the Army Corps of Engineers had erected in a clearing near Windward Point Lighthouse, on GITMO's southern edge. Affixed to a steel beam was a rectangular box with five circular, red buttons protruding from the case. In front of each button stood a uniformed soldier. Atop the platform, another soldier slipped a braided noose around Clinton's neck.

Vice Adm. Hannink addressed the execution detail: "When I say ready, and not one moment before, you will poise your left index finger in front of the button. You will keep it hovered there until I say execute, and then you five must simultaneously press your button. Only one of the five buttons will trigger the door, and none of you will ever know which button that was. Do you understand these instructions?"

"Yes, sir," the five bellowed in unison.

A chaplain and a physician climbed the 13 steps leading to the top of the platform and stood beside a soldier who was checking to ensure the noose was secure around Clinton's neck. Below them, Vice Adm. Hannink asked if Clinton wanted last rites or had any final words.

Clinton broke silence. "I'm Hillary Clinton, you can't do this to me," she said, her voice a witch's cackle.

"It's already done," Donald J. Trump shouted up at her.

"Ready." Vice Adm. Hannink nodded at the execution detail.

After a moment's pause, he gave the "execute" order, the soldiers pressed their buttons, and the grate beneath Clinton's feet swung open. Her legs and feet, still shackled at the ankles, twitched a moment or two, then stopped.

The rope was cut, and Clinton's lifeless body lie sprawled in a damp patch of grass. The physician present checked her vitals and declared her dead.

A confidential source involved in Trump's mission to obliterate the Deep State said the overall mood was somber and melancholy; there was no celebration, no jubilation, just an atmosphere of contentedness, an acknowledgement that what had to be done, was done. The nature of her crimes overshadowed celebratory thought. But a four-decade reign of terror had come to an end.

"As much as Trump hated her, this was purely business. He cares about the children who suffered at her hands more than he cares about what she did to him. Yes, her demise sends a signal to the Deep State. But Trump knows there are many more to go, and he won't celebrate till the job is done," our source said.

(Visited 320,870 times, 97,839 visits today)

Previous article

Clinton Military Tribunal: Day 5 CONVICTION!

By

-

April 16, 2021

84075

A military tribunal on Thursday convicted former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton on charges of murder, conspiracy to commit murder, accessory to murder, child trafficking, endangering a minor, treason, and sedition.

The two male, one female panel of officers cast a unanimous verdict shortly after Vice Adm. John G. Hannink, who prosecuted the military's case against Clinton, showcased his final witness for the prosecution, Clinton's former strategist and lover, Huma Abedin.

In exchange for leniency and a plea deal, Abedin testified she and Clinton had "shared" underage children with her estranged ex-husband, Anthony Weiner. Pressed to clarify her definition of the word "shared," Abedin qualified her answer by saying they had "practiced" lewd and lascivious behavior on underprivileged minors Clinton had imported into the United States.

"American children?" Vice Adm. Hannink asked.

"Yes, but not primarily. They're too easy to track. More often than not from poor countries," Abedin replied.

"Would you tell this tribunal how you appropriated these children?" Vice Adm. Hannink asked.

“Hillary used her government credentials. She had carte blanche, as a Secretary of State, former Secretary of State and former First Lady. It was easy for her to bring orphaned children in from places like, say, Syria, Afghanistan, or Iraq. No one asked questions. No one to look for them,” Abedin replied callously.

Asked to quantify their exploits, Abedin said she couldn’t count the number of underage boys and girls Clinton had brought to the United States under the pretense of providing them with a fruitful life, but she told the tribunal there had been “many,” most of whom were later “sold or donated” to influential members of the Clinton cabal.

“Who are the people?” Vice Adm. Hannink asked.

“We never knew, exactly. It’s not like Hillary peddled them herself. She had someone handle that, and I don’t know the person’s name,” Abedin replied.

“And yet she still refuses to speak,” Vice Adm. Hannink observed.

He asked the tribunal whether they had heard enough; that the military had presented overwhelming evidence of Clinton’s atrocities against the United States and humankind. Unlike a conventional criminal trial, he reminded the commission, a unanimous verdict was not needed to convict Clinton on any of the charges. A majority vote, he said, would satisfy justice.

The tribunal arrived at a guilty verdict after deliberating only five minutes. They found Clinton guilty on all charges the military had laid out—the murders of Seth Rich, Vince Foster, and Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia; trafficking and abusing minors from Haiti and other third-world nations; conspiring to assassinate a presidential candidate.

As she had throughout the tribunal, Clinton stayed eerily silent as the verdict was read and the officers recommended she receive the death penalty for her crimes. Vice Adm. Hannink asked Clinton if she had preference in how the military carried out her sentence, but still she refused to speak.

“You refused counsel. You refused to defend yourself. This tribunal therefore decides that the defendant, detainee Hillary Rodham Clinton, be hanged by the neck until dead,” Vice Adm. Hannink said flatly. “The sentence will be carried out on April 26, after Taps.”

Huma Abedin will face her own military tribunal, at a date yet to be decided, RRN has learned.

(Visited 494,987 times, 2,082 visits today)

Previous article

Next article

•

•

Military Arrests James Comey

By

-

April 21, 2021

30292

The U.S. military has arrested disgraced former FBI Director James Comey on charges of treason, sedition, obstruction of justice, and aiding and abetting persons actively involved in criminal behavior, Real Raw News has learned.

Donald J. Trump greenlit the Tuesday morning raid on Comey's lavish, suburban home after speaking to Marine Corps Col. John Lynch, commanding officer of the Marine Raider regiment at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. Col. Lynch committed at least two 4-man squads to the mission, said a confidential source involved in Trump's quest to depose Joseph Biden and restore America to the people.

On Tuesday at about 3:00 a.m., U.S. Marines operating on Donald Trump's authority stormed Comey's seven-bedroom, 10,700-square-foot mansion in McClean, Virginia. Although most operational details are classified, our source said Raiders surprised Comey, who was half-asleep in bed, and apprehended him after he reached for a pistol underneath a pillow. Before he could palm the weapon, a Marine charged forward and struck Comey's forehead with the butt of his rifle, rendering Comey unconscious.

"Trump's people had digital surveillance on the Comey residence for quite a long time. They knew Comey's wife, Patrice, would be out of town on personal business, and none of the kids would be around visiting. Trump's been anticipating this moment a long time; it's a day of reckoning," our source said.

Trump, our source added, had authored a sealed indictment on Comey shortly after firing him on May 9, 2017. He had obtained irrefutable evidence proving that Comey, an Obama holdover, had been on Clinton's payroll and, on her authority, tried to slander the president by linking the Trump campaign to Russian interference in the 2016 election. Moreover, Trump had obtained a 2015 audio recording in which Comey told Hillary Clinton he would "do whatever it takes, no matter what" to scuttle Trump's bid for the presidency. Additionally, Trump learned that Comey's faux investigation into Clinton's handling of confidential emails was merely for effect, optics to avoid the appearance of impropriety and bias.

"Comey is criminal scum. He doesn't have a modicum of decency. Trump also has the goods on him for wiretapping Trump Tower. Comey's been taken to a secure holding pending transportation to GITMO, where he'll face a military tribunal. One thing that'll come out is that when Comey got hold of Anthony Weiner's laptop, he found videos of Huma Abedin and Hillary Clinton doing some pretty terrible things to kids. Comey kept that info from the public, probably at Clinton's request," our source said.

In closing, we asked our source why, with so many arrests dropping, family and friends of the accused haven't complained to CNN or MSNBC about their loved ones being abducted in the dead of night.

"The only explanation is the Deep State is keeping them silent," our source said. "If it became officially known that people like Clinton, Podesta, Abedin, and now Comey have been nabbed by the military, it would weaken the Deep State's hold on society—because it would show they are losing. And the Deep Staters always want to give the appearance of winning. They won't be able to for much longer."

(Visited 110,652 times, 1,260 visits today)

Previous article

Next article

Deep State “Drone Strikes” Roger Stone

•

•

Deep State “Drone Strikes” Roger Stone

By

-

April 25, 2021

17135

On Saturday Trump ally Roger Stone and radio personality Matthew Erich “Mancow” Muller said in posted video that a massive explosion at a Broward County petroleum warehouse was actually a drone strike meant to take Stone out. Stone, whose office is less than 250ft from the epicenter of the Oakland Park blast, said he didn't know whether he, specifically, was a target, but questioned the proximity of the explosion in relation to his business.

Mainstream publications like Newsweek have dismissed the drone strike as a baseless conspiracy theory, but a confidential source involved in Trump's mission to invalidate the 2020 election told RRN that Deep State operatives are retaliating against Trump's allies in response to mass arrests of people such as Hillary Clinton, John Podesta, Huma Abedin, and James Comey.

"It's tit for tat right now. You take our people, we'll take yours. That's the mentality. Stone has had a broad target on his back for a long time. There are still some military, a minority, loyal to Biden, and they have an impressive arsenal at their disposal. What they may or may not no(sic) is that Trump almost immediately launched an investigation into the explosion, and that his forensic people got evidence proving military hardware caused the blast," our source said.

Trump, our source added, dispatched a battle damage assessment team to the area hours after he learned the explosion had nearly levelled Stone's office. His team struck paydirt early in the investigation, finding in the rubble what appeared to be a mangled control fin from an air-to-ground missile. The surface of the fin had residual traces of propellant used in the AGM-114 Hellfire air-to-ground missile, which is common weaponry affixed to the MQ-1 Predator and MQ-9 Reaper UAV drones.

Moreover, Trump's team interviewed two eyewitnesses who claimed to have seen a "brilliant flash of light" zip down from the sky moments before the explosion.

"Trump's guys reached an agreement with them not to blab to the media until his investigation is complete. I'm sure he's compensated them generously. Trump thinks Stone was the target, and the missile missed, as missiles sometimes do. It set off propane cylinders, causing a lot of secondary explosions. I guess the Deep State didn't check to see what was nearby. Trump wants to figure out who ordered this strike. He doesn't think it's sleepy Joe, but he hasn't ruled out other nefarious critters like Obama," our source said.

(Visited 49,724 times, 1,788 visits today)

Previous article

Next article

Marine Corps. Rebukes Pelosi: "WE DON'T WORK FOR YOU!"

•

Marine Corps. Rebukes Pelosi: "WE DON'T WORK FOR YOU!"

By

-

January 13, 2021

53993

Latest Breaking News:

General David H. Berger, Commandant of the United States Marine Corps., refused House Speaker Nancy Pelosi's request to use the Corps. to safeguard Biden's Jan. 20 inauguration from Trump supporters and insurrectionists.

A Pentagon source speaking under promise of anonymity told Real Raw News that Pelosi contacted Gen. Berger late Monday night, and she beseeched him to commit 5,000 troops to help ensure a peaceful transition of power and to prevent a repeat of the Jan 6 siege of the Capitol. Gen. Berger, our source said, didn't understand why Pelosi needed additional soldiers to augment an already impressive force assembled by federal and state officials. That force includes 15,000 National Guard from D.C., Delaware, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island, and an undisclosed number of FBI and DHS agents who arrived in D.C. Sunday night.

Pelosi said she wanted “battle ready” reinforcements because “radicalized Trump supporters and kooky Qanon conspiracy people” were about to converge on D.C. She implored him to reconsider, arguing that it was the general’s patriotic duty to quell uprisings and guarantee Biden’s ascension to the Oval Office.

Her statement made the general explode, our source said.

“Don’t lecture me on patriotism, Madam Speaker. I’ve served this country with distinction for 40 years. I’ve spilled blood for our nation. What have you, a self-serving elected official, done for your country?” Gen. Berger said.

Pelosi further enraged him by saying he was answerable to Congress.

“I answer only to the president, and as I understand it, Donald J. Trump is still president and commander-in-chief. I abide in the Constitution as it was written, not your interpretation of it,” Gen. Berger admonished Pelosi.

Quoting our source, “When her intimidation tactic failed to sway Gen. Berger, Pelosi tried a different tactic: Begging and flattery.”

Pelosi claimed that the National Guard’s “weekend warriors” were ill-prepared to repel an army of “mad Trumpists.” Battle-hardened marines, however, were more capable of defeating “rabble rousers,” she said. “You have the best trained soldiers in the world, and America needs them.”

Gen. Berger was unmoved. The only way Marines would be deployed, he told her, was if President Trump himself issued that order.

“If you want us to help combat his supporters, I suggest you get him on the phone and tell him that. If he orders me to, I will. Otherwise, I suggest you listen really hard to the words escaping your cracked, poisonous lips; they’re tantamount to treason. We don’t work for you,” Gen. Berger allegedly told her.

Please help support alternative media. We follow the truth, wherever it leads. We reject absolutely big-tech and the narrow, dogmatic views of MSM. Although we are new to the arena, the MSM and its watchdogs—Snopes, Media Matters, Politifact, etc.—have waged war on us. We need your help to thrive, so that we can present important, unique news not found elsewhere.

[wpedon id="445" align="center"]

(Visited 852,236 times, 24 visits today)

Previous article

Next article

Delta Force Raids Biden Compound in Ukraine

•

Delta Force Raids Biden Compound in Ukraine

By

-

January 4, 2021

During the predawn hours on New Year's Day, Delta Force operators infiltrated a Biden-controlled stronghold in southeast Ukraine near the port city of Mariupol, according to an anonymous White House Source who said President Trump greenlit the operation following a series of telephone calls to US military commanders and to Ukrainian President

A Delta detachment, known as 1-SFOD in the Special Operations community, flew from Okinawa Japan to the US Embassy in Kyiv and held position there until Trump cleared the incursion with his Ukrainian counterparts.

Reliable sources said the Trump administration had obtained "credible evidence" that the Biden family, by proxy, owned a 200-acre estate and office building 50km northwest of Mariupol. On paper the property was owned by Paradigm Global Advisors, a hedge fund firm in which the Bidens have controlling interest. In the late summer of 2006 Joe Biden's son Hunter and Joe's younger brother, James, bought the firm. On the first day on the job, they showed up with Biden's other son, Beau, and three large men and fired Paradigm’s president and 95% of staff, according to a Paradigm executive who was present. After that, much of Paradigm’s overseas ventures went dark but continued to rake in hefty profits despite a conspicuous lack of investors.

In June 2009 Washington Free Beacon writer Thomas Breslin opined the following statement: “Paradigm is hardly a reputable company. The Bidens fired everyone and put their own people in place. The company became nothing less than a slush fund for illicit monies that the Bidens laundered through the place.”

The Trump administration has spent four years ferreting out the truth behind Paradigm Global Advisors, according to our White House informant.

“After years of digging, Trump finally caught a break. A current Paradigm employee—someone the Biden’s fucked over—came forward with enough evidence for Trump to make this move. I don’t know what specific evidence was presented, but it must have been some heavy-hitting stuff for Trump to call on Delta to take care of it.”

At 3am on New Year’s Day, three Blackhawk helicopters, including decoy aircraft, airlifted Delta from Kyiv to the drop zone. The team found the office building empty, devoid of life. The unit commander described the building as “frigid,” as if it had been vacant and without heat for a long time.

“The windows were covered in a hoarfrost glaze, and the place had a catacomb chill about it,” he was quoted as saying. “Every office had been stripped—no chairs, no desks, no computers, no nothing. No electricity.”

Although the building was long deserted, Delta found evidence of recent activity within the hacienda attached to the compound. In a kitchen were freshly chopped vegetables and a percolator of lukewarm coffee. Outside, fresh tire impressions led away from the compound. It was as if someone had tipped off the occupants.

But in the hacienda Delta hit paydirt. They seized several laptops and 300 million dollars in gold bullion. They also found crates of Chinese-manufactured Type 56 assault rifles and tens of thousands of rounds of ammunition. Even more disturbing, they found beneath the hacienda a maze of chambers and tunnels that ran for miles in every direction. Ankle and wrist shackles, bolted to the walls in various locations, held bits of necrotic flesh, and in an antechamber, they discovered twelve duffel bags filled with black tar heroin.

On Trump's order, Delta coordinated with Ukraine's SBU, that nation's security agency in counterintelligence and combatting terrorism, to confiscate evidence and await the arrival of State Department personnel.

This is a developing story and will be updated as is appropriate.

Clinton Military Tribunal: Day 5

CONVICTION!

-
-

Clinton Military Tribunal: Day 5 CONVICTION!

By

-

April 16, 2021

84075

A military tribunal on Thursday convicted former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton on charges of murder, conspiracy to commit murder, accessory to murder, child trafficking, endangering a minor, treason, and sedition.

The two male, one female panel of officers cast a unanimous verdict shortly after Vice Adm. John G. Hannink, who prosecuted the military's case against Clinton, showcased his final witness for the prosecution, Clinton's former strategist and lover, Huma Abedin.

In exchange for leniency and a plea deal, Abedin testified she and Clinton had "shared" underage children with her estranged ex-husband, Anthony Weiner. Pressed to clarify her definition of the word "shared," Abedin qualified her answer by saying they had "practiced" lewd and lascivious behavior on underprivileged minors Clinton had imported into the United States.

"American children?" Vice Adm. Hannink asked.

"Yes, but not primarily. They're too easy to track. More often than not from poor countries," Abedin replied.

"Would you tell this tribunal how you appropriated these children?" Vice Adm. Hannink asked.

"Hillary used her government credentials. She had carte blanche, as a Secretary of State, former Secretary of State and former First Lady. It was easy for her to bring orphaned children in from places like, say, Syria, Afghanistan, or Iraq. No one asked questions. No one to look for them," Abedin replied callously.

Asked to quantify their exploits, Abedin said she couldn't count the number of underage boys and girls Clinton had brought to the United States under the pretense of providing them with a fruitful life, but she told the tribunal there had been "many," most of whom were later "sold or donated" to influential members of the Clinton cabal.

"Who are the people?" Vice Adm. Hannink asked.

"We never knew, exactly. It's not like Hillary peddled them herself. She had someone handle that, and I don't know the person's name," Abedin replied.

"And yet she still refuses to speak," Vice Adm. Hannink observed.

He asked the tribunal whether they had heard enough; that the military had presented overwhelming evidence of Clinton's atrocities against the United States and humankind. Unlike a conventional criminal trial, he reminded the commission, a unanimous verdict was not needed to convict Clinton on any of the charges. A majority vote, he said, would satisfy justice.

The tribunal arrived at a guilty verdict after deliberating only five minutes. They found Clinton guilty on all charges the military had laid out—the murders of Seth Rich, Vince Foster, and Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia; trafficking and abusing minors from Haiti and other third-world nations; conspiring to assassinate a presidential candidate.

As she had throughout the tribunal, Clinton stayed eerily silent as the verdict was read and the officers recommended she receive the death penalty for her crimes. Vice Adm. Hannink asked Clinton if she had preference in how the military carried out her sentence, but still she refused to speak.

“You refused counsel. You refused to defend yourself. This tribunal therefore decides that the defendant, detainee Hillary Rodham Clinton, be hanged by the neck until dead,” Vice Adm. Hannink said flatly. “The sentence will be carried out on April 26, after Taps.”

Huma Abedin will face her own military tribunal, at a date yet to be decided, RRN has learned.

(Visited 494,987 times, 2,082 visits today)

Previous article

Next article

Navy SEALs Arrest Hillary Clinton

-
-

Navy SEALs Arrest Hillary Clinton

By

-

March 4, 2021

65995

The chant “lock her up” has finally seen fruition.

US Navy SEALs loyal to Donald Trump raided Hillary Clinton’s Chappaqua, NY estate and arrested her on charges of treason, destruction of government property, and aiding and abetting the enemy, Real Raw News has learned.

The arrest happened on Tuesday night, according to a source in Trump’s orbit, only hours after Trump had spoken to Rear Admiral Hugh W. Howard at US Special Operations Command and given him a “mammoth trove” of evidence of Clinton’s criminality dating back to her days at the State Department. The evidence allegedly includes thousands of never-before-seen emails, which Clinton acid washed prior to the 2016 presidential election, as well as documents implicating her in plots to assassinate Republican legislators across the country.

The evidence was so compelling, our source added, that Adm. Howard had trouble believing that Clinton wasn’t arrested years ago.

“Trump’s been wanting to get her, and the rest of the Deep State cabal, ever since he set foot in the White House. It has taken him years to dig up the motherload. Once he had military support, he greenlit the operation. Trump’s team, for lack of a better word, had been surveilling Clinton a long time, and he knew she was always alone on Tuesday nights. That’s when the SEALs nabbed her,” our source said.

Under cover of darkness, an eight-man detachment from Naval Special Warfare Group 3 infiltrated the Chappaqua mansion shortly after 2:00am. Mysteriously, Clinton’s two-man Secret Service detail, which normally lives in a guest house on the property, was absent that morning. The SEALs cleared the main building, then silently breached the door to her bedroom, where they found her awake rehearsing a speech before a vanity mirror. They fired a single tranquilizer dart into her neck, our source said, before taping her mouth and sealing a black cloth bag over her head.

The SEALs also seized several laptops and reams of paper, our source said.

“I don’t know where they took her; only Trump knows that. But this is proof that Trump and the military have started taking out the cabal. It took him longer than expected, longer than he wanted, but better late than never. Trump is doing what’s right for America,” our source said.

Trump will soon send her to Guantanamo Bay to face a military tribunal for her crimes against America and its people. GITMO, our source said in closing, is run by the Marine Corps. and the US Navy, both of which have forsaken Joe Biden and instead pledged to help Donald Trump vanquish the forces of darkness that have enshrouded the nation in corruption for decades.

Update:

Note: We are aware that MSM-sponsored, so-called fact checking agencies, such as SNOPES, are challenging the content of this article. Snopes, Politifact, MediaBias, and most other so-called fact checking organizations are controlled wholly by the MSM and the liberal left to promote their agenda. RRN stands by the story as written, and will present an update shortly.

Please help support alternative media. We follow the truth, wherever it leads. We reject absolutely big-tech and the narrow, dogmatic views of MSM. Although we are new to the arena, the MSM and its watchdogs—Snopes, Media Matters, Politifact, etc.—have waged war on us. We need your help to thrive, so that we can present important, unique news not found elsewhere.

[wpedon id="445" align="center"]

(Visited 470,170 times, 24 visits today)

Previous article

Next article

468 COMMENTS

Trump Assassination Foiled, Deep State in Panic Mode!

-
-

Trump Assassination Foiled, Deep State in Panic Mode!

By

-

January 30, 2021

42202

UPDATE: WE HAVE JUST PUBLISHED A FOLLOW-UP TO THIS STORY:

On Tuesday morning, January 26, at approximately 3:00 am, a sniper's bullet struck a panoramic casement window on the east wall of Trump's bedroom at his Mar-a-Lago estate. The round might have slain Trump had he not recently replaced tempered glass with Blast Structures International's bullet resistant glass, which, according to the company's website, can stop anything less powerful than a .50 round.

A confidential source within Trump's inner circle told Real Raw News that Trump was asleep in bed, and, a light sleeper, was awakened by the "sharp crack" of the bullet striking glass. The round did not penetrate the glass, but caused a material-science dissipation fracture, or spiderweb pattern.

The strike, our source said, triggered a silent alarm that instantly notified the Palm Beach Police Dept. and Trump's Secret Service Detail, which sleeps in a guest house ten yards from the main building. Agents whisked Trump to safety, escorting him to a fortified saferoom, and said they'd coordinate with local authorities.

But Trump demanded they call the Palm Beach Police Dept. and say it was a false alarm.

“Trump was adamant no police get involved,” our source said. “He told his guys he wants to keep it in the family. No law enforcement. No media. He was very stern about keeping the media blind to the event. Trump made a phone call, and inside of thirty minutes, some heavy-hitting dudes who were definitely not Secret Service arrived at the estate,” our source said.

With Trump safe, his private security fanned across the 20-acre estate searching for signs of intrusion, while the Secret Service detail began its own investigation as to how a would-be assassin got within shooting distance of one of the most secure residences in the world.

At 7:00am a forensic ballistic expert from Quantico arrived at Mar-a-Lago and determined the bullet fragments were from a 7mm Remington Magnum round. He found himself amid an intractable dilemma, our source said. The round had been fired at a downward angle and, had it pierced glass, would have sizzled through Trump’s skull, but an attack on the east window meant one of two things. The sniper had taken the shot from either estate grounds, which lacks elevated terrain, or from somewhere above the Atlantic swell, a seemingly impossible feat.

“Trump’s bedroom is 23 feet above ground level. Besides the main building, no structure on the property is higher. The ballistics guy figured the shot could only have been made by someone in a hovering helicopter two hundred yards or more off the coast. If true, that guy must have been the best marksman in the world. From a helicopter and at night. Crazy,” our source said.

The concept of sniping from a helicopter seemed so unrealistic that RRL reached out to Marine Corps Staff Sgt. Hunter Bernius, a scout-sniper and instructor at the Marine Corps. School of Infantry in Geiger, North Carolina. Without mentioning the nature of our inquiry, we asked Staff Sgt. Bernius about the odds of successfully pulling off a 200-400 yard shot from a hovering chopper with little or no natural light.

“Only with proper training specifically for that type of mission. To shoot precisely, the shooter has to account for aircraft vibration and wind speed and direction, all wind whipping up around him from blades spinning at 400rpm. Then there’s a dozen other variables. Takes months and months of training from a qualified instructor, and there’s still no guarantee. Aerial sniping is a skill all its own,” Staff Sgt. Bernius said.

By noon, the Secret Service had discretely interviewed all persons on estate property, but no one reported having seen or heard a helicopter.

According to our source, Trump’s people suspected the attack was carried out by the Deep State, to stop Trump from amassing incriminating evidence that, if released, could sink every Democrat from Joe Biden to the most junior member of the Democratic caucus.

(For those people asking What about Melania? Where was Melania? Anyone who knows anything about the Trumps, knows they sleep in separate bedrooms.)

This is a developing story.

Please help support alternative media. We follow the truth, wherever it leads. We reject absolutely big-tech and the narrow, dogmatic views of MSM. Although we are new to the arena, the MSM and its watchdogs—Snopes, Media Matters, Politifact, etc.—have waged war on us. We need your help to thrive, so that we can present important, unique news not found elsewhere.

┌
Trump Offers Comey Leniency to Testify
Against Obama

-
-

Trump Offers Comey Leniency to Testify Against Obama
By

-

April 23, 2021

23197

The U.S. military has offered a recently incarcerated James Comey a plea deal: No death sentence in exchange for future testimony against the Deep State's preeminent architect, Barack Hussein Obama.

As reported previously, U.S. Marines on April 20 raided Comey's posh Mansion in McClean, Va., where they arrested the traitor and shipped him to Camp Lejeune, N.C. There, the military has been interrogating him in advance of his eventual trip to Guantanamo Bay to stand before a military tribunal.

A confidential source involved in Trump's operation to invalidate the 2020 election and arrest the traitors told RRN that Trump agreed to remove capital punishment from the table if, and only if, Comey signs an attestation linking Obama to the tragic deaths of 16 patriots. According to the military, Barack Obama had on July 31, 2013 authorized an airstrike against a Colorado militia group after learning its members had obtained photographic evidence of guillotines being installed at FEMA camps in Colorado, Nebraska, and Wyoming.

The militia members, the military claims, had gathered at a secluded safehouse in northwest Colorado to discuss methods of disseminating their evidence without endangering themselves and their families. Unbeknownst to them, an Obama spy had, apparently, infiltrated their ranks and communicated knowledge of the meeting to the Obama hierarchy. As the meeting progressed, an F-16 receiving instructions from Cheyenne Mountain homed in on the safehouse and released a pair of Mark 83 1000-lb bombs. The resulting explosion laid waste the area and killed everyone in attendance, including women and one child.

“Obama tried to destroy evidence of the attack, but seems he missed some. Trump and the military believe Comey knew about it an advance. So did Susan Rice and John Brennan, who’s already at GITMO. Comey’s not getting out of a tribunal, but Trump wants Obama. It’s possible Brennan has already spilled some info on this. Trump’s willing to spare some lives to get to Obama,” our source said.

After an exhaustive search, RRN was unable to find evidence of the aforementioned attack. There are no public records of explosions or forest fires in northwest Colorado that day. Nor have members of the three-percenters, the militia group named on military records, ever spoken publicly on the attack.

“The Deep State are masters of coverups and deception, and their reach is unlimited. They could have threatened people into silence. Look what’s happening now, even the Oath Keepers are flipping and ratting one another. Trump thinks it’s legit. And the military, it seems, has evidence. And they must think Comey can put the nail in Obama’s coffin,” our source said.

The question is, will Comey talk, or is his fear of his Deep State masters greater than his fear of the hangman’s noose.

Author’s note: We asked our source why Obama, a fan of drone strikes, didn’t use a drone, which would have been less conspicuous. He seemed sure it was an airstrike and that the pilot was told he was bombing an Islamic terrorist hideout.

(Visited 64,354 times, 962 visits today)

Previous article

Next article

FOR A WEALTH OF OTHER RELIABLE AND UNCENSORED SUBSTANTIATED FACTS, JOIN TELEGRAM AND FOLLOW @LIN WOODGSPEAKSTRUTH, @SIDNEY POWELL, AND OTHERS. AND, JUST AS IMPORTANTLY, JOIN FrankSpeech.com whose founder is Mr. Lindell, the "Pillow Man" who does the advertising of Mike

Pillows. Below is the message as of 4-1-21 on the front page of FrankSpeech.com:

"The launch of FRANK has been epic! Our 24-7 TV stream with LIVE programming continues with additional new live shows coming soon as well as phase two that will feature the TV broadcasts, articles, and podcasts of nationally known broadcasters. Please text FRANK to 567-252-0000 and you will receive a text alert before live broadcasts begin so you can watch LIVE on your phone, computer or iPad. You will also receive text alert updates on new features at FrankSpeech.com."